

Based on the popular “Where is Waldo” books, I bring you Find the Radicals from St. Vincent’s in This Photo!

This photo from The Philadelphia Inquirer on 4/4/2025 has at least five people in it who attend St. Vincent’s. Can you find all of them. Perhaps there are more. Here is a hint; two of them are wearing hats.

St. Vincent showed up for the “We Defend the Sacred” action at ICE April 3, 2025

Over 30 faith communities came together Wed. April 3, 2025 at noon to create an altar in front of the Philadelphia ICE office. It was a wonderful statement that we will keep our worship places as places of sanctuary.

WE DEFEND THE SACRED

CLERGY ACTION
SENSITIVE
LOCATIONS

The first hearing for the 2nd lawsuit challenging Trump's rescission of the Sensitive Locations memo will begin the first week of April.

On April 3rd, clergy and lay people will come together to defend our places of worship. Our congregations aren't just safe, they are sacred. And we are the ones who define those spaces, not Trump.

We also know that the sacred is not confined to a building, but flows out into the world. So on April 3rd we will bring the sacred to ICE, where we will all help build an altar at the Philly ICE building.

ICE OFFICE

114 N. 8TH ST.

As Trump attempts to take away every safe space, we as a faith community stand in our moral authority to confront injustice, reclaim our sacred spaces, and lift up the power of transformative love that extends everywhere, even to the ICE office and to ICE agents.
